Hydra to Samvera

Moving to the next step:
exploring migration options

The University of Hull implemented its current repository using what was then hydrahead 6, in January 2014. The repository is a general purpose institutional repository solution, used to manage a variety of digital collections, from research outputs to theses and past exam papers to committee minutes, plus datasets and learning materials.

Whilst Hull's Hydra continues to serve its purpose, Hydra/Samvera has moved on in leaps and bounds. Hence, we need to consider our options for migrating or moving to the latest incarnation of what Samvera can offer, to facilitate maintenance and ongoing development. We thus wish to tap into the collective wisdom of the community and uncover the key points and options we should be considering. Thank you – all input will be shared!
